

IBM, Stockholm

– using district cooling/heating to save costs

Name IBM - Kista Science City

Location Kista, Stockholm

Special importance

Uses excess heat to heat offices w 3000 employees. Resell heat back to the energy company since 1977. Since 2009 uses district cooling in addition to free cooling.

Total area

5 halls

Power

1,4 MW per hour, resells between 0,2-1,1 MW per hour to district heating network.

Connectivity

Several service providers connected to site.